

Information for this week...

August 23, 2020

Parish Events/News

You for YOU: More than a dozen donors dropped off items in Ascension's parking lot for Youth Opportunities Unlimited's new homeless youth shelter on Clarke Road. The donors included the Quilters Group and some people who were not church members, but had heard about it. The donations filled two hatchback cars. YOU staff were delighted with the contributions, which arrived the day before their grand opening. They send their blessings. Sandra Coulson and Russ & Linda Braley

Keep those pictures... maybe for future use. A huge thank you to those who have submitted photos over these past few months to help us create a weekly Ascension photo video to add to our online worship. We have enough to get us through the next few weeks until we go back to in-person worship. A special shout out to Donna Thompson (unofficial photographer-in-residence!) for all her archival photos and for taking Bob on a tour of the city to get photos of parishioners.

FYI - Did you know that if you “subscribe” to our You Tube channel it could help us? We need a significant number of followers to live stream on You Tube (initially we will be using Facebook) but every subscription helps. Click on the “subscribe” button beneath the video when you watch.

Do you or someone you know care for an older spouse, parent, friend or neighbour living at home?

If yes, we would be interested in talking to you about your experience. Researchers from Queen's University are conducting a study to learn more about the successes of caregivers and about what influences family and friend caregivers' decisions to reach out for support and services.

Being in this study will involve:

Completing a short background questionnaire for about 10 minutes.

Participating in a one-on-one online interview for approximately 30-40mins with a researcher.

There is no cost for you to participate in the study.

If you would like more information about participating, please contact Jodi Webber at 647 284 1830 or by email jodi.webber@queensu.ca

In our community, city and world of prayer: Loving Lord, You are our hope and our strength in time of trouble. You are our ever present help in this difficult world and Lord, we know that You hold the future in the palm of Your hands and we trust You. Help us to rely on You no matter what problems and difficulties arise; our hope is in You. We give thanks to you for always being there in our happy times, and our sad times. Amen.

Diocesan Chain of Prayer this week: Regional Ministry of Hope: Trinity Church Blyth; St. John's Church Brussels, St. Paul's-Trinity Church Wingham; The Rev'd JoAnn Todd. We pray for retired clergy, the Rev Marjorie Reid, the Rev Kendall Reimer-Johnston and for clergy on leave, the Rev Luanne MacPherson, the Rev Abraham Manang.

Altar Flowers

Flowers on the altar for this Sunday in August would usually be given by Beverly Ganney, to the glory of God and in memory loved ones. Rest eternal grant to them O Lord.

A Pastoral Note
